

MEET OUR AWS DELIVERY EXPERTS

Chris Wegmann: I am the technical lead for our Accenture AWS Business Group.

Dr. Isi Idemudia: I'm an AWS solutions architect at Accenture AWS Business Group.

Ingi Zaki: I'm an associate manager out of the North America Amazon practice.

Jeff Hammond: I'm the enablement and alliance programs lead.

Why join Accenture AWS Business Group?

Chris Wegmann: We are working with the largest companies in the world, the largest enterprise customers in the world, who have the most complex and most challenging journeys to the cloud. And because of this business group, because of the assets we've built, and the continued investment between both organizations, there is no better place to grow your career and to get super deep AWS experience.

Ingi Zaki: I love that we have the opportunity to learn new things, work across different technologies and industries, and we make a difference in our communities and even a global impact.

Jeff Hammond: I don't think that there's anybody who can do AWS for clients at the scale that we are able to.

What's your favorite part of Accenture AWS Business Group?

Chris Wegmann: It may sound cliché but it's the people.

Ingi Zaki: Our team is such a tight-knit community, everyone is so eager and wanting to help you.

Dr. Isi Idemudia: it's just one big happy family!

How does Accenture support your career growth?

Jeff Hammond: We provide learning platforms and programs. We provide coaching and of course, we support people for the examination process. Accenture itself invests more than a billion dollars in skilling it's people per year. And with the Accenture AWS Business Group, we really take the whole idea of continuous learning and developing skills to heart.

How does Accenture empower you to bring your whole self to work?

Dr. Isi Idemudia: I'm part of the African American Resources Group, in fact just last month I had the opportunity to teach a class on AWS AI to people within the African American community. It's a beautiful community.
