Smart Health Contact Center

Context and client challenges

- In an era where each one is connected, the need for innovative approaches to facilitate effortless and rapid connections between individuals is rapidly escalating. In healthcare, where swift communication is paramount, the adoption of smart contact centers presents a transformative solution to ensure that patients never feel abandoned. This innovative solution fosters a trusting relationship between patients and their physicians while empowering doctors to connect with patients promptly, efficiently, and only when truly necessary.

New approach and solution

- Accenture & Genesys developed a solution based on Genesys Cloud technologies to enable companies to setup the own Smart Health Contact Center
- The Use Case developed in ACIC+ will leverage on three different communication channels, to seamlessly facilitate access to:
  - Voice Bot: to be used for non-critical scenarios where immediate patient-doctor connections are not essential
  - Audio call: the first connection level required for critical scenarios
  - Video call: Exclusively reserved for critical scenarios

Client benefits

- Establish a smart and integrated platform for seamless doctor-patient interactions
- Embrace a multichannel strategy to streamline and expedite patient-physician interactions
- Harmoniously integrate external tools into a unified Contact Center solution
